

RF 250 REV JACKET

The RF250 Rev Jacket has a thicker padding that makes it suitable for lower temperatures and more passive activity. In relation to weight and volume, the RF250 Rev Jacket provides a very good insulating layer. One of the great advantages of this jacket is that the insulation material used has an ability not to absorb any liquid, which means that it works well in all types of climates and that it dries very quickly. The RF250 Rev Jacket is also reversible for use in winter scenery.
